Arrow Bronze is the premier supplier of bronze and aluminium plaques and accessories to the memorial industry in Australia.

When arranging a memorial plaque, it is the final step that a family can do for their loved one. At Arrow Bronze, we understand the difficult time that families are going through when they are arranging the memorial. It can also be a stage that helps in the families grieving process. Even though we are a manufacturing company, our staff take great pride in the manufacture of the plaque.

We display compassion and empathy that will ensure that the plaque is of the highest quality and does credit to the memory of the deceased. Our plaques are touched by hands that care, and we pay the utmost attention to detail in the manufacture of each plaque. We often hear our employees saying, "It is nice to make a difference". Our staff treat each plaque as if it were for their loved one.
